

Master of Public Policy (MPP) students graduate with a comprehensive set of analytical and quantitative skills that enable them to formulate, implement and evaluate policy across the private, public and not for-profit sector. The MPP program's practical, hand's-on approach to policy education means students enter the workforce ready to hit the ground running.

96% of MPP graduates are employed or undertaking further education

MPP EMPLOYMENT BY SECTOR

2012 – 2015 Graduates Sample employers and job titles

Industry

Energy Analyst, ARC Financial Corporation
Sustainability Analyst, Sobeys
Senior Analyst, Transfer Pricing, Grant Thornton
Market Manager, Fertilizer, Canadian Pacific
Policy Advisor, Enbridge
Policy Analyst, CDN Assoc. of Petroleum Producers
Senior Advisor, ATCO Energy Solutions
Community Relations Advisor, MEG Energy
Government Relations Advisor, Suncor Energy

Government

Assistant Chief of Staff, Dept. of Finance, Government of Canada
Trade & Investment Officer, Government of Alberta
Water Resources Planner, City of Calgary
Business Strategist, City of Calgary
Director of Closure Liability (Oil & Gas) Section, Alberta
Energy Regulator
First Nations Liaison, BC Oil & Gas Commission
Land & Resource Manager, Tr'ondek Hwech'in First Nation, Dawson City

Research

Policy Analyst, Canada West Foundation
Research Associate, Alberta Health Services Researcher, Alberta WaterSmart
Energy Researcher, Canadian Energy Research Institute
Research Associate, Conference Board of Canada
Research and Policy Analyst, Calgary Homeless Foundation
Research Associate, Tax & Economic Growth, SPP, U of C
Research Associate, Health Policy, SPP, U of C

Not for Profit

Senior Manager, Stakeholder Relations and Policy, Institute of Health Economics
Manager, Financial Empowerment, United Way Calgary
Manager, Executive Services, Tourism Calgary
Energy Commercialization Analyst, Innovate Calgary
Director, Regulatory Affairs and Research, HR Institute of Alberta
Policy Analyst, Canadian Cattlemen's Association
Manager, Extractive Resource Governance Program, SPP, U of C