Niloo Hojjati is Manager of the Extractive Resource Governance Program at the School of Public Policy, University of Calgary. As part of the Extractive Resource Governance Team, she has worked with governments of numerous resource-rich jurisdictions around the world to assist them in developing sustainable extractive policies through executive training and applied research initiatives. Niloo holds a Master's degree in Public Policy from the University of Calgary, with her capstone focusing on the potential application of Small Modular Reactors (SMRs) for electricity generation in the Northwest Territories. She also holds a Bachelor's degree in Economics from the University of Calgary. Her current areas of research include natural resource governance and economic development, with a focus on the role of sovereign wealth funds in resource-rich jurisdictions.
