

Tom Wilson

Tom Wilson is an Emeritus Professor of Economics and the Senior Advisor to the Policy and Economic Analysis Program at the Rotman Institute for International Business at the University of Toronto. His areas of research and consulting include economic forecasting, fiscal policy analysis, tax policy analysis, wage-price models, regulatory proceedings, competition policy, advertising and industrial organization. He is currently working with two colleagues on a book on fiscal policy in Canada.