- Google Docs (free) – <https://www.google.ca/docs/about/>

Course Description:

Research and writing will be a key part of your experience as a student of public policy and your future career. After this course, students should have a refined writing process and be familiar with a variety of public policy writing genres. To succeed in the course, students should be prepared to research, to read, and to write. Students should bring the required textbook and a laptop or digital device (required to access library resources, software, and draft writing assignments) to each class. The course will involve periods of lecture, class discussion, group work, peer review, and individual consultations.

The objectives of this course are the following:

- Students will appraise their current writing process and determine appropriate changes to improve the clarity and precision of their writing, including structure, syntax, and word choice.
- Students will identify key features of various public policy genres and construct samples.
- Students will follow best practices in research, including use of citation software, digital annotation, and group work tools.
- Students will compare the tone and style of individual writing samples to create a cohesive group document.
- Students will review citation and documentation requirements, particularly the Chicago Manual of Style.
- Students will practice patterns of argumentation and use appropriate types of support.

Public Policy 613 Course Outline

Main topics will include the following:

- Digital document management and working in research groups
- Appropriate citation and paraphrasing in public policy
- Identifying and writing for particular audiences
- Common genres in public policy writing
- Developing and supporting arguments
- Reflection on writing process and revision

Classes and Readings:

A detailed list of course readings will be available on D2L by August 1st. These will include a variety of supplementary resources on various areas. It is recommended that students familiarize themselves with the course D2L site prior to the first day of class.

To facilitate the block week course, students will be required to do some preliminary work.

Pre-Class Requirements

(Deadline: August 12)

- Writing questionnaire – This 10 question D2L quiz will be used to help inform the class topics. This quiz will not be graded and responses will not impact students' grades.
- Introduction posting – Students will post a short comment (approx. 100 words) on the D2L discussion board introducing themselves and outlining their specific public policy interest. Research groups will be constructed based on these postings.

(Deadline: August 26)

- Diagnostic assignment – Detailed instructions will be posted on D2L. Students will write an executive summary of George Orwell's (1946) essay "Politics and the English Language" (250-400 words).

Grade Determination:

A detailed description of all assignments will be posted on D2L. All assignments should be submitted through the D2L Dropbox.

| Assignment                              | Value | Due Date     |
|---|-------|--------------|
| Group Research Summary and Bibliography | 10%   | September 7  |
| Revised Diagnostic Assignment           | 10%   | September 10 |
| Writing Portfolio                       | 30%   | September 18 |
| Policy Brief and Position Statement   | 30%   | September 22 |
| Group Stakeholder Analysis            | 20%   | September 29 |

**Students are allowed an extension of two days (Sept 24/Oct1) on these assignments without any penalty. The only requirement for the extension is to email the instructor by noon on the original due date (Sept 22/Sept29).

Grading: If any letter grades are given, these will be consistent with those provided in the Faculty of Graduate Studies Calendar (see section E.1 of Calendar online) will be given for all elements of grade determination noted above. In the event that elements are marked on a numerical (percentage) basis, they will be converted to letter grades. As a guide to determining standing, the following letter grade equivalences will generally apply:

|    |        |    |       |    |       |
|----|--------|----|-------|----|-------|
| A+ | 97-100 | B  | 75-79 | C- | 60-62 |
| A  | 90-96  | B- | 70-74 | D+ | 55-59 |
| A- | 85-89  | C+ | 67-69 | D  | 50-54 |
| B+ | 80-84  | C  | 63-66 | F  | 0-49  |

Important Notes:

- The School of Public Policy expects the highest standards of professional conduct by students, faculty and staff. Abusive or disrespectful behavior will not be tolerated. This includes any expression of prejudice in any of its forms.
- It is the student's responsibility to be fully aware of the academic regulations outlined in the University Of Calgary Faculty Of Graduate Studies Calendar. Provisions regarding Student Misconduct (plagiarism, cheating and other academic misconduct) will be strictly enforced. Please review the University of Calgary's Regulations on Plagiarism, Cheating and Other Academic Misconduct, online:
