

J. Scott Wilkie, *Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, and Distinguished Professor of Practice – Osgoode Hall Law School, York University

Scott Wilkie is a partner who practices in the area of tax law at Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP. He is one of the most high-profile tax practitioners in Canada, with expertise in international taxation, corporate taxation, taxation of financial transactions, transfer pricing and tax policy. Has written numerous publications and speaks frequently on these subjects. Scot is the Vice-Chair, Permanent Scientific Committee, International Fiscal Association, and formerly has served as the Chair and a Governor of the Canadian Tax Foundation, co-editor of the Canadian Tax Foundation's Canadian Tax Journal, co-Chair and Tax Section Liaison of the Tax Committee of the American Bar Association International Law Section, chair of the Canadian Bar Association National Tax Section and in that role co-Chair of the Joint Committee on Taxation of the Canadian Bar Association and the Chartered (Professional) Accountants Canada.

Scott is a Distinguished Professor of Practice and the 2017/2018 Lewtas Professor at Osgoode Hall Law School at York University where he is also a co-director of the Professional LLM in Tax Law , and has also taught as an adjunct Professor at the Université Paris 1 Panthéon Sorbonne , the Faculty of Law at the University of Toronto and the Faculty of Law at McGill University and taught or lectured at McMaster University in its graduate economics program, the University of Western Ontario and New York University Law School in its international tax program and as invited to lecture at other universities. Scott is an adjunct faculty member of the Vienna University of Economics and Business where he teaches a course in trade and tax policy entitled WTO and Tax Policy. Scott is an Executive Fellow, University of Calgary School of Public Policy.

Scott served as a public policy adviser for the Canadian E-Business Opportunities Roundtable and the Canadian E-Business Initiative, and participated in the work of the Minister of National Revenue's E-Commerce Advisory Panel on the international tax aspects of e-commerce. He was a member of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development's Business Advisory Group for Business Restructurings and for many years has made contributions to various international tax and tax policy discussions in relation to project work conducted by the OECD. He has also contributed to work of the United Nations Committee of Experts on International Cooperation in Tax Matters as a consultant and a member of its Sub-Committee on the Royalties Article of the United Nations Model Tax Convention. Scott continues to be highly rated as a leading practitioner by various professional publications. In 2012, Scott was awarded a Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Medal to recognize his significant contributions to the work of the Canadian Tax Foundation. He has also received a 2003 Arbor Award for outstanding voluntary service to the University of Toronto, was awarded a lifetime membership for service to the Canadian Tax Foundation which has also awarded him its Lifetime Contribution Award, and he and his co-chair received the 2006-2007 American Bar Association Most Improved Committee Award for assisting to rebuild the Tax Committee of the International Law Section.

B.A., McMaster University (1977); LLB, University of Toronto (1980). Admitted to the Ontario Bar in 1982.